Elegante Iron, Inc.

Welcome to Elegante Iron, where you will discover authentic, hand forged wrought iron that captures the essence of old world craftsmanship, artistry and techniques that for thousands of years have complemented some of the most magnificent historical homes and buildings around the world. Elegante Iron's custom made entryways, doors, balconies and inserts are today being used by the most selective builders, architects, designers and homeowners, including five of the 2002 Parade homes.

"We have created more entry doors, wine cellar gates, as well as ornamental inserts and balconies in this Parade, than has ever before been accomplished-11 interior and exterior doors, 4 wine cellar doors and gates, 6 ornamental inserts, 1 stair railing and 3 balconies!" asserts Jenny Sandlin, owner.

An Old Art in a New Time

Choosing only the best materials for each piece, Elegante Iron's workmanship and quality are unparalleled, with no end to their creativity.

With a 10,000 square foot factory located in the heart of Monterrey, Mexico, Elegante Iron's artisans pay close attention to the delicate process of faux finishing, and offer myriads of beautiful finishes that will complement any style or color scheme. "We are proud of the quality and craftsmanship that goes into our doors. Our commitment is to excellence in product, service and, above all, customer satisfaction," states Jenny.

Discover a new world of elegance. Let Elegante Iron show you how unparalleled expertise, craftsmanship and pride results in the type of quality and artistry you've been searching for.
